

10th Annual
Day of Caring
Tuesday, October 3, 2017
The Alley, Hektner Student Center, NDSCS

United Way of Richland-Wilkin needs teams of volunteers to help area senior citizens with various projects for the Annual Day of Caring, on Tuesday, October 3, 2017.

Day of Caring allows you/your company to be active in helping the community and enhances teamwork amongst colleagues. It also offers you/your employees/friends the opportunity to have fun with coworkers outside the workplace while working on a constructive, worthwhile project!

Teams may work on indoor and/or outdoor tasks. These jobs may include/but are not limited to: washing windows, installing storm windows, preparing yard/gardens for winter, general cleaning or small repair projects, interior or exterior painting. Depending on the scale of the requested projects, teams may be asked to visit more than one senior citizen. The tools and materials needed for the projects will be provided by the recipients.

What is Day of Caring?

Day of Caring is a mobilization of volunteers to celebrate the spirit of giving through service by providing a day of meaningful volunteer opportunities to individuals of the community. Volunteers are assigned to assist the seniors and homebound folks of our community and tackle meaningful volunteer projects.

Some projects may include painting a room, cleaning out a flowerbed, or sorting canned food, cleaning out and wiping down cupboards, cleaning ceiling fans, shampooing carpets, moving furniture, cleaning the garage, washing walls, trimming hedges or any projects that will assist with home care.

When is Day of Caring?

Tuesday, October 3, 2017

8:30 a.m. (Registration)

9:00 a.m. Start projects throughout the day until 3:00 p.m.

Who will the volunteers be participating in the Day of Caring?

Businesses, employee groups from local corporations, church groups, youth groups, civic and philanthropic groups, United Way supporters, and any caring individual. Everyone is welcome to perform community service tasks to help fellow community members.

Why is Day of Caring so important?

- Day of Caring demonstrates that volunteer efforts are vital to the well-being of our community.
- Day of Caring provides volunteers with a firsthand look at needs that make an impact on people's lives.
- Day of Caring showcases our communities' volunteer efforts and promotes the spirit of caring throughout the year.
- Day of Caring provides many community members with much-needed volunteer assistance.
- Day of Caring is a great team building exercise for families, service organization or employees.
